Collaborative Strategy Session

Lily’s Florist Shop & GO Innov8 Solutions

DR. C.: "Hi Lily! I'm excited to help Lily's Florist Shop take the next digital step. What are your main goals for this new e-commerce platform and AI assistant?"

LILY: "Hello, Dr. C.! It is so wonderful to work with you. My main goals are two-fold: first, I want to increase my online sales by at least 30% by making it easier for folks across Nashville to order. Second, I spend hours every day answering routine calls and messages about orders and store hours. I really need an AI chatbot to handle 70–80% of those automatically so my team and I can focus on designing gorgeous flowers and reducing waste!"

"Hi Lily! I'm excited to help Lily's Florist Shop take the next digital step. What are your main goals for this new e-commerce platform and AI assistant?"

LILY

"Hello, Dr. C.! It's wonderful to work with you. My main goals are two-fold: first, I want to increase my online sales by at least 30% by making it easier for folks across Nashville to order. Second, I spend hours every day answering routine calls and messages about orders and store hours. I really need an AI chatbot to handle 70–80% of those automatically so my team and I can focus on designing gorgeous flowers and reducing waste!"

DR. C.

"That makes total sense, Lily. Automation plus a high-end visual experience will be a game changer. Let's outline the core features: An interactive customizer so customers can select specific stems, vases, and card messages with real-time price updates."

LILY

"Yes! And advanced search and filtering. For different occasions like Sympathy, Birthday, or Wedding. Plus a robust local Nashville delivery scheduler restricted to our radius around 37203, with a calendar time-slot picker and zip-code validator."

DR. C.

"Regarding your goal of 70–80% automated inquiry resolution, how should the AI chatbot handle complex customer requests?"

LILY

"The AI should instantly pull tracking numbers from our database when customers ask 'Where is my order?' and provide expert plant care advice. However, if a customer is upset—like if a sympathy arrangement arrives damaged—or if the chatbot loops twice without solving the issue, it must seamlessly transfer the chat to a live support agent during our business hours, 8 AM to 6 PM CST."

DR. C.

"We are also making sure the entire storefront adheres strictly to inclusive design standards—ensuring that users relying on screen readers and keyboard navigation can shop just as easily as anyone else, complete with high-contrast toggles and visible focus indicators."

LILY

"I love that so much, Dr. C.! We serve all kinds of people here in Nashville, and I want every single neighbor to feel welcomed and respected on our website."

DR. C.

"Perfect. With these goals, features, we have everything we need to build out our System Requirements Specification (SRS) and Figma wireframes."

LILY

"This is fantastic, Dr. C.! Thank you for making Lily's Florist Shop shine online!"

AI Disclosure Statement
Project Title: Lily’s Florist Shop & GO Innov8 Solutions E-Commerce & AI Integration Platform

The use of AI, specifically Gemini 1.5 Pro, was explored across various facets of project development, such as research, ideation, strategy, and editing. In research, AI aided in gathering local e-commerce data, though manual checks were necessary for local nuances. Future protocols suggest initial manual audits for a clearer baseline before AI use. In ideation, AI effectively structured persona matrices and technical requirements, but future strategies could benefit from early critical simulations. Core business strategies were crafted without AI to maintain authenticity, underscoring the importance of preserving unique project elements. Finally, AI served as a final editorial tool, enhancing document clarity and consistency, with a recommendation for early-stage multi-perspective reviews to improve technical precision.
